

TERMS OF SUBMISSION

These Terms of Submission (“Terms”) apply to your story submission to Volkswagen Group of America, Inc. (“VWoA” or “we” or “us”) and any subsequent information shared with VWoA relating to your story submission (collectively, “Story”). By submitting your Story, you agree to these Terms and the Volkswagen of America Privacy Statement (available at <https://www.vw.com/privacy/>), which is incorporated by reference. You also agree that your Story represents a true and honest account of actual events and is not false, fabricated, or exaggerated.

We will gather information from you through this submission form. This information will include your name, contact information including email address, and whether you are 21 years old or not. You may voluntarily provide your Instagram Username or your Twitter Username. We may use this information to contact you about your Story to determine if you are willing to share more details about your Story. What you tell us in response to those questions and the submission form is provided voluntarily, and we do not require you to provide us any information beyond the information detailed above. VWoA is under no obligation to use your Story; however, you provide us the right to use all or part of your Story and to edit or modify your Story in our sole discretion for any purpose without further consent or compensation to you.
